DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1) The information disclosure statement filed on 01/30/01 has been considered and placed in the application file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- 2) Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
- A) The recited "and the like" per claim 1 constitutes indefinite subject matter as per it not being readily ascertainable as to if or how said objectionable phrase further limits the claim.
- B) The recited "vinyl acetate polymer based emulsion" per claims 2-7 constitute indefinite subject matter as per such engendering an inconsistency with the antecedently recited preamble "vinyl acetate based polymer based emulsion".
- C) The recited "catalytic" per claim 5 engenders the non-express establishment of proper antecedent basis.

D) The recited "2-hydroxy-2-sulfinato propionatic acid-disodium salt" per claim 4 engenders non-art recognized terminology. Applicants' comments are welcomed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3) The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4) The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
 - 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 - 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 - 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 - 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
- 5) Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pinschmidt, Jr. et al/U. 8.4,360,632) or Weist et al/U.S. 4,044,197) in combination with applicants' own disclosure.

Pinschmidt, Jr. et al disclose an improvement in a process for producing a latex containing dispersed polymer, the improvement comprising polymerizing a reaction mixture f vinyl mon mers such as ethylene, vinyl acetate, N methylolacrylamide, etc. in the presence of a stabilizing system using a redox initiator system omprising an oxidizing agent such as hydrogen peroxide, t-butyl hydroperoxide, etc. and a formaldehyde-free reducing agent such as a water-soluble ketone bisulfite(alone or with other reducing agents) so as to form the polymer and wherein, the N-methylolacrylamide is governed by a content of about 0.5 to 10 wt. % and the ethylene is governed by a content of about 5 to 25 wt.%, based on the polymer. See, e,g,, the Abstract and cols. 2-3 of Pinschmidt, Jr. et al.

Weist et al disclose aqueous dispersions of a self-x-linkable ethylene/vinyl acetate copolymer derived from a) from 5 to 50 wt.% of ethylene, b) from 30 to 87 wt.% of vinyl acetate, c) from 2 to 10 wt.% of a copolymerizable compound containing an N-methylol group, d) from 5 to 20 wt.% of an acryl compound, e) from 0.5 to 3 wt.% of an unsaturated carboxylic acid and f) optionally, a polyolefinically unsaturated monomer wherein, the copolymer is produced via emulsion polymerizing components a) through f) in an aqueous system in the presence of an emulsifier or protective colloid using a redox catalyst system comprising an oxidizing agent such as hydrogen peroxide, t-butyl hydroperoxide, etc. and a reducing agent comprising sodium dithionite, etc. See, e.g., the Abstract and cols. 2-5 of Weist et al.

The disclosures of Pinschmidt, Jr. et al and Weist et al differ basically from the claimed invention as per the non-express recognition of the specifically depicted reducing agent per the claimed invention. However, as admitted per applicant, himself, Bruggolite FF-6, a Trade name for the reducing agent falling within the sc pe of the structurally depicted reducing agents, is a known reducing agent and, to this end, the interchangeability of one well known reducing for another is a matter of ordinary choice to the skilled artisan, absent some evidence of unusual or unexpected results.

Criticality for such, clearly commensurate in scope with the claimed invention, not having been demonstrated on this record. See page 6, lines 14-18 of the specification.
